beyond technology.

Digicon's technology doesn't stop moving forward, now it presents the evolution with the dViator model.

An Access control solution that operates under the free flow system, doors remain open and offer continuous flow bringing a whole new user experience.

The Y shaped extra way out works like a deviator, user is conducted to two different ways according to its permission. This way users are never blocked but selected and redirected keeping the flow.

Optimizing resources

Y shaped passage that improves the organization and dismisses the need of other equipments.

Windows of light

Identifying user groups by colours that follows them along the Lane.

Unicity

3D image system that identifies the credential of multiple users within the Lane area, distinguishing non authorized users with high precision levels.
